Know - ing You in e - very way.

2. I have many prayer requests,
All of them I will express.
But not often will I say,
"Lord, what's on your heart today?"
3. Lord, I want to know your heart,
Now your life you will impart,
When as one we will become
Then the world will see the Son.
4. Now our hearts become as one
In the presence of the Son.
When before the throne of grace,
Then we know His fond embrace.
5. I want, Lord, to know you more
Ever than I did before.
Now my vision will become
To see God's move in His Son.

One of our class assignments was to write in a journal. Every week we were introduced to different poets and were to write our experiences in our journals. And from our inspiration we were to write a verse to our poem. I worked on the verses for the 9 weeks of classes with so much help from the brothers.

My experience was that I wanted to know the Lord more, to have a desire for what was on His heart in my prayers. Through this thought the Son can be revealed more and more to those around us and to the world. I wanted my prayers to touch the Lord's heart, and through touching His heart my life would be different. Some of my experience was through my journal. Touching the Lord in this way also was something that I had never experienced before.
